Eisenhower Wins As 1,400 Watch

More than 1,400 students attended the Election Watch Night party Tuesday evening. Crowds gathered at the Young Republican Club table, upper left, and Young Democrats Club table, upper right. In the lower picture, students follow the election returns from all over the nation on television.

An estimated crowd of more than 1,400 students filled the south side of the Women's Gym Tuesday night to watch the election returns mount to decide the end of the local, state, and national campaigns.

Under B-G News sponsorship, WBGU, a 21-inch television set, the Young Democratic and the Young Republican clubs gave this campus its first annual Election Watch Night.

The large TV set flashed the national and state results, while members of the two political clubs kept score on large blackboards.

In the B-G News office, a crew of three WBGU announcers, members of Dr. Raymond Derr's radio news writing class, and three engineers aired local and wire reports.

Members of the Bowling Green election board, Paul E. Miller, chairman, Karl E. Mollenburg, Jessie H. Keel, and Guy M. Nearing, made all local results available to the radio station. WBGU was the only station to air the local results Tuesday night.

In the Women's Gym, there was the atmosphere of interest, confusion, excitement. Political discussions were everywhere. Books were forgotten in all but one case.

An ambitious member of a marketing class was busy ignoring the election. He was doing research into the buying habits of the average Bowling Green coed by filling out questionnaires.

Tuesday's results, upheld this campus' verdict. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower rode to the presidency by a landslide. On this campus he was the winner, 295-140.

Most of the students at Watch Night were in favor of the party. Fred Pratt, senior, put it this way: "Student interest has been aroused by this Watch. It is an excellent public service."

Dean Russell, junior, was "surprised to see the student interest. The spirit is remarkable."

Freshman Nancy McKee also endorsed the party, but she pointed out that "the radio and television set interfered with each other sometimes."

The television set was lent by the Household Appliance Shop, 902 E. Wooster St.

Freshman class officer elections Nov. 13 will serve as a trial proving grounds for a new voting procedure to be used by the Student Senate elections committee, Katherine O'Connor, chairman of the committee, has announced.

Booster Trophies

John Maragakes, president of Boosters Club, displays the two trophies which are awarded each year to the housing units judged to have shown the most spirit during the year.

Points are awarded for spirit shown at the games, attendance at Booster club meetings, and work for the Boosters Club.

The trophies are presented at Honors Day each spring.

A revised committee report on the placing of signs, posters and pictures on campus was accepted by Student Senate Monday night with little discussion.

The report, first presented to Senate Oct. 6 and tabled at that meeting, was sent back to committee for revision at the Oct. 20 meeting, after Senators had made several recommendations for changes.

Provisions Listed

The report contains the following provisions:

1. Banners across the gates will be allowed for special events with the approval of Mr. Bunn's office.
2. Signs, posters, and pictures for various campus elections will be under the jurisdiction of the Senate elections committee.
3. Signs, posters, and pictures for announcements of meetings, programs, and other social events will be limited to the Student Senate bulletin board north of the Well and to the Nest.
4. Miscellaneous announcements concerning the sale of books, lost items, etc., will be confined to the small bulletin board north of the bookstore.
5. Dito and mimeographed sheets will not be placed in any of the classrooms or administrative buildings with the exception of those placed on bulletin boards provided for student use.

Sic Sic Excluded

6. Any items in regard to signs, banners, posters, and pictures not mentioned in the previous five points are not to be placed anywhere on campus except within the confines of the various dormitories. This does not include the work of the organization known as Sic Sic, which is subject only to limitations set by its advisors.
7. The committee recommends that the Student Senate, on special occasions, may alter these rules temporarily either by further limitations or by further extensions. Any such alterations would require a majority vote of the Steering Committee of Student Senate or a majority vote of Student Senate, the latter whenever possible.
8. All membership drives, sale of tickets, etc., are to be limited to stands set up in the area north of the Well in the Ad Bldg. This does not include tickets for athletic events and plays.
9. The committee also recommends that any group or individual putting up any banners, posters, signs and pictures must, within 12 hours after the event has transpired, take the item down.

Committee Recommended

The committee also recommended that a five-member committee be set up to approve items for the Senate bulletin board, supervise and check the placing of signs, posters and pictures, present violators of the rules to Student Court, and propose any changes in the rules.

The committee which presented the report included Paul Hirschy, chairman, Katherine O'Connor, Fred Pratt, and Margaret Miller.

Dads Honored At OU Game

To All University Students:

Dad's Day is always a delightful occasion at Bowling Green State University. The committee has chosen an excellent date for this event—Saturday, Nov. 15, when we play Ohio University in the final game of the football season.

Special honor guests will be the fathers of our football players, and we hope that most of them will be able to attend. The team has turned in to date one of the finest records ever made by a Falcon football squad, and it will do our hearts good to honor the fathers of these men.

Recognition of football Dads is only a part of the celebration of Dad's Day, however. Nov. 15 will be Dad's Day for all Bowling Green fathers. Every Bowling Green State University dad will be an honor guest on that day. I urge upon every student that you extend a cordial invitation to your father to be with us on Nov. 15 if it is at all possible for him to come.

Let's make it a great day for everyone—especially the Dads.

Cordially,

Ralph W. McManis
President

In Our Opinion

Cooperation Brings Success

By this time, Eisenhower has rested from his campaign and is probably reading himself for "Oath Day," Jan. 20. He and his Senate and House cohorts will be the most well-known administration ever to set foot in Washington if the press, radio, television, and movies are given free reign.

Communication has advanced considerably since Jackson's day when he did not learn of his victory until over a week later. Wednesday morning, Eisenhower knew of his election a few short hours after the last polls closed.

On the local scene, various forms of communication played an important and necessary part in bringing combined election results to the campus Tuesday night. For the first time, the campus radio and press worked together on a large scale project.

Although the B-G News sponsored Election Watch Night, its success depended on the excellent coverage of local, state, and national news by WBGU, campus radio station. Our sincere thanks are forwarded to Monty Greene, Fred Meeks, and Walter Hoy, as mike reporters; Don Hinde and Dave Foresman, technicians; Karl Helwig, wire editor; Gary Wilson, Board of Elections correspondent; and Manley Anderson, tabulator of Wood County returns.

Radio coverage was made possible by Sidney Stone, associate professor of speech, and Dr. Raymond W. Derr, assistant professor of journalism. The entire Watch Night would have been impossible had it not been for the efforts of Prof. Jesse J. Currier, chairman of the journalism department; Dean Currier; the Household Appliance Shop, for furnishing TV; and Dick Flockencier of Special Services.

Our many thanks also go to the more than 55 per cent of the campus which stopped in at the Women's Gym Tuesday night.

Fraternity Serves Community

Ken Johnson, left, was one of the members of Theta Chi fraternity who transported townspeople to voting places Tuesday. Members of Alpha Phi sorority did baby sitting while parents voted.

Congo Setting Is Background For Production

By BUDD BLORE

Kilimanjaro is a snow-covered mountain 19,710 feet high and is the highest peak in equatorial Africa. Its western summit is called by natives the "Masai Ngai," the House of God, and only those without sin may enter. Native legend maintains that once there was found close to the western summit, the dried and frozen carcass of a leopard. No one to this day can explain what the leopard was seeking at that altitude.

It is against this unusual background that Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor production of Ernest Hemingway's "The Snows of Kilimanjaro" unfolds.

The picture which opens at the Cla-Zel Theatre Sunday, for a four-day engagement, stars Gregory Peck as Harry Street, a virile writer and big game hunter, who, while awaiting possible death, reviews his life, love, adventures and frustrations in a series of flashbacks, each a story of its own. Three women are involved in Harry's life. Ava Gardner plays the part of Cynthia, the girl who seeks only happiness among ambitious people, Hildegarde Neff is cast as the cold and calculating Countess Liz. Susan Hayward portrays Helen, who sacrifices her happiness as the author's second wife.

"The Snows of Kilimanjaro" is a rare treat both in story content and photography, and though you may at times become confused as to where the action is taking place, you will enjoy this production. "Snows" will surely come in for its share of Oscars next spring.

Attention! The writer of this column, in collaboration with Mr. Henley, the manager of the Cla-Zel Theatre will, each week, award five pairs of theater tickets to readers of this column. To be eligible, leave your name and phone number in the B-G News office in the box marked "Two For The Show." Contacts for awards will be made by phone on Wednesday afternoon and evening.

ATTENDS MEETING

Miss Helen Henderson, associate professor of home economics, attended the annual meeting of college teachers of textiles and clothing Oct. 30 to Nov. 2.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Bill and I would like to take this opportunity to extend our thanks to those students who contributed time, money, or both to promote the 1952 All-Campus Chest Drive. We would like to give special recognition to the Publicity Chairman, Barbara MacLaren, and her committee for the many hours of labor spent building "Freddie and his egg," to Delores Swayne, off-campus chairman, and her committee, for their work in attempting to bring the off-campus students into the Drive, and to the B-G News staff for the support given us in this year's campaign.

We cannot overlook the fine performances contributed by the unpaid talent at the variety show, as they provided an evening of fine entertainment for all, nor the excellent rough and tumble football game in the Powder Bowl played by Alpha Xi Delta and Delta Gamma, and it would be a definite injustice to overlook Alpha Phi Omega's work in the traditional Ugly Man Contest which collected over $267 for the Drive.

Although we were disappointed that we did not reach our goal, we wish to thank every contributor in this year's Drive. Their contributions, in a small part, will help to carry on the research and educational programs of the various organizations included in the Drive.

To Miss Whitner, our faculty adviser, and to our senior advisers, Nancy Gruner and "Doc" Nissen we want to express our sincere appreciation for their invaluable help. Lois Radomsky and Bob Krome, this year's sophomore representatives, deserve special recognition for their untiring efforts, and we wish them, as next year's co-chairmen, the very best of luck in the 1953 all-campus Chest Drive.

Sincerely
Betty Gorsuch and William Bittner,
Co-chairmen 1952 All-Campus Chest Drive

Dear Editor,

We thought the Election Watch Night was a big success. Congratulations to the editors of the B-G News for giving a greater number of students the opportunity to view this important event. It was very well organized for being the first time it was ever done. We were happy to see that so many people supported it.

Sincerely,
Judy Kohring
Jan Parlette

Two Males Needed On Social Group, Names Due Nov. 10

Social Committee, watchdog of students' spare moments, is looking for two male members to fill a junior and a senior vacancy. Men with these qualifications, plus time and initiative, should file their applications by Nov. 10 at the Student Center Bldg., Miss Alma J. Payne, social committee adviser, announced.

The committee, this year a division of the department of student activities, handles the general functioning of the campus social events. Miss Payne is faculty adviser and Jack Taylor is the student chairman.

Taylor revealed that new purchases by the committee will soon be available to students. A crystal ball, available free-of-charge for all-campus dances, has been purchased by the committee and will be ready for use by next week. Park equipment will be available for use under University supervision at Urschel Pond in the spring.

The social committee's main function is to work with campus groups in arranging the 30 all-campus orchestra dances, eight disc dances, eight square dances, and a continuing week end schedule of campus movies at the Main Aud.

Other activities are the handling of the chaperon cards and file, service requisitions, social activity equipment, and guest cards. Guest cards are mainly for use of students with University visitors, since campus movies are open only to students with activity cards.

Social sub-committee, the little brother of Social Committee, is also looking for freshman applicants. This branch is supervised by Nancy Hirschy, Raymond Fernandez, and Jack Taylor, members of the social committee.

Student members of the social committee progress on a yearly elimination system, starting with three men and three women members from the freshman class, two each from the junior class, and one each from the senior class.

At present, the senior member is Vivian Muething, the other position being open. Juniors are Nancy Hirschy, Nancy Joerling, David Dawson, and a male vacancy. Sophomores are Doris Phillips, Kathryn Metz, Florence Herman, Frank Fusco, Daniel Springer, and Donald Miller.

Miss Payne's office hours are 9 to 10:30 a. m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and 9 to 11 Tuesday and Thursday. Jack Taylor's hours are 9 to 10:30 a. m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and 4 to 5 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday.

Sharpies were betting Wednesday morning that, because Republicans won the election, the banks would shut down in "just four days." They forgot to mention that four days from then would be Sunday, the usual day for bank closings.

Many students remarked yesterday that this is the first time since their "wee days" that they have heard of a Republican administration. They said that they've lived through the "fireside chat" period of Roosevelt and the "give 'em —" days of Truman, and are wondering what the next four years will bring.

Penguins Meet B G Here Tomorrow

Once-Beaten Falcons Seek Seventh Victory Of Season

By PETE RAY

Bowling Green's well-balanced grid machine will put its five-game win skein on the block here tomorrow afternoon against an eager young eleven from Youngstown College.

The Penguins, coached by D. V. "Dike" Beede, have had a surprising good season so far in view of the fact that there are four freshmen, three in the backfield, and three sophomores on the starting offense.

To offset this lack of experience, Coach Beede has built up what he calls his "pony" backfield and has modified last year's offense to a split "P" formation. This line up closely resembles the split "T" except for an unusual backfield alignment and has been successful in carrying the team to four victories and a tie, in six contests.

Backfield Light and Fast

The "pony" backfield features four light, but fast and tricky runners that have the ability to score from anywhere on the field. All but one of the quartet is just below the 150-pound weight class. With the 181 pounds of fullback Jim Villa included, the average hits 159 pounds.

Besides hard-driving Villa, the backs are Lee Bobo, 156-pound "spot" player who operates at either offensive quarterback or defensive safety, and halfbacks John Rouse and soph Francis Schaville.

A big line that averages almost 200-pounds opens the holes through which these backs gallop.

The Falcons will counter with a balanced attack that seemed to have at last hit its stride in the Kent State encounter Saturday.

It was the fifth straight decision for the Falcons and gave them a record of six and one for the season.

Lyons Passes Effective

An example of the well-rounded offense displayed by Bowling Green's griders Saturday can be shown in the total net yards gained. Through the air, Bill Lyons, passing mostly to ends Jim Ladd and Phil White, connected for 13 of 21 attempts and 169-yards. White really came into his own as he pulled down six throws for 96-yards, while Ladd kept going as the leading receiver in the Mid-American Conference, catching six for 68-yards.

It was on the ground, though, that the offense showed the most improvement. The backs, led by halfback Roger McKenzie, who picked up 130-yards, sliced through and around the Kent line for 268-yards, the most for one game this year.

BG In Good Physical Shape

The Falcons should be in good shape physically for the tilt, the only ills being colds suffered by fullback Fred Durig and White.

Bob Hallett, who missed a couple of games because of knee injuries, is ready to go again. He'll attempt to plug the gap at end, left by the tragic death of Dick Cain. He has

Girls Hockey Team Journeys To Meet

Eight Bowling Green girls have been chosen to go to the Great Lakes Field Hockey Tournament at Painesville, Ill., Nov. 15. The girls are members of the Bowling Green Women's Field Hockey team which was one of twelve teams from eight Ohio colleges which participated in the Buckeye Field Hockey Association Tournament at Denison University last Saturday.

Bowling Green played two games at Denison and won both.

In the morning competition they beat Otterbein College three to two with Betty Thomas scoring two goals and Patricia Daugert one. Betty Thomas again scored two goals in the afternoon competition with the Denison team to help her team win a 3-0 victory. Mary Lou Kieffer scored the third tally.

From the Great Lakes Tournament two teams will be selected to attend a national tournament to be held at Sweetbriar, Va.

played mostly offensive guard this season.

The Penguins have had a string of tough breaks in the last few games in the form of injuries to key men. The top passer for the team, freshman Dick Franko, is out for the year with a broken collarbone. First string halfback George Ceremuga also will be missing.

Both Teams Dump BW

Baldwin-Wallace is the only opponent met by both squads this year. The two teams faced the Yellow Jackets on successive week ends, the Falcons winning 27 to 19, and the Penguins squeezing out a 13 to 12 decision the following week.

The Penguins have defeated Gustavus Adolphus, 13-12; St. Francis, 35-0; Mt. Union, 26-7; and Baldwin-Wallace. They also tied Marshall College 6-6. Their lone defeat came at the hands of John Carroll last Saturday by a 40-0 score.

By DON KELLER

With football dominating the sports spotlight here at Bowling Green these days, too little attention is paid to the one sport that has one of the best win-loss records of the University.

Cross-country, sporting a 5-1 record this year, holds an overall win-loss average of .806 per cent during the past four years.

In 1949 the Falcons won 7 and lost 2 and duplicated that record the following season. During the 1951 season, the Bowling Green harriers set another fine mark with a 6-1 won-lost, with one meet ending in a tie.

Thus far in the current season, the cross-countrymen hold wins over Albion, Baldwin-Wallace, Ball State, Western Reserve, and Kent State. Their only loss came at the hands of Wayne University.

BG At Miami

Tomorrow Bowling Green treks to Miami for the Mid-American championship meet, Nov. 15 Western Reserve will be here for the final dual meet of the year. The Falcons will be favored to cop this since they trounced Reserve early in the season.

The harriers have gathered 25 wins over the past four years while dropping only 6 and tying 1. This accounts for their excellent .806 record.

Coach Dave Matthews builds his team by using average runners along with one or two very good men.

"I never cut the squad and consequently every man who comes out has all the time he needs to improve."

Grades Good Too

Scholastically, the cross-country boys seem to be unparalleled. Last year, the squad as a whole averaged a 3, while this year two men are on the dean's list.

Captain of the team, Marvin Crosten, hails from Akron and is one of the most active athletes on campus. A senior in the College of Education, he is on the dean's list; is president of the Varsity Club; vice-president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon; member of Interfraternity Council; and a member of Alpha Phi Omega.

Wikle Proves Valuable In Falcon's Backfield Picture

One of the main reasons for the Falcons' strong backfield this year has been its ability to furnish replacements. A player largely responsible for this is an 18-year-old sophomore named Dick Wikle.

Wikle, who alternates the right halfback spot with Roger McKenzie, has shown up well this year. Although he is only 5'7" and weighs 155, he makes up for his short height by his speed and determination. He is fast and knows how to handle a football.

Dick wasn't given much of a chance at the start of the season, but has come along steadily. It's a rather large order for any sophomore to break into the team and gain an alternate position.

Intramural Volleyball Entries Due Today

Entries for volleyball teams must be turned into the intramural office today, as play will begin Tuesday, Nov. 11, according to Dave Matthews, intramural director.

A volleyball team can have only 12 men on a team and no individual may play on more than one intramural team. All the rules for playing volleyball are posted on the bulletin board in the Men's Gym.

The above information applies to both independent and fraternity teams.

Anyone interested in playing in the table tennis singles tournament should sign the entry blanks posted on the bulletin board in the outside hall by the ping pong tables in the Men's Gym.

Entries are due Nov. 12 and play will start Nov. 17. Fraternity men and independents follow the same procedure in entering this tournament.

BG Coaches, Players Attend Services Held For Richard C. Cain

Members of the coaching staff and some of the Falcon's varsity football players traveled to Barberton yesterday to attend funeral services for Richard Cain.

Cain, first string defensive end for the Falcons, was killed early Monday in a traffic mishap in Norwalk, Ohio. Returning to school after spending Sunday at his home, he was killed when his automobile collided with a semi-truck.

Some of the varsity players who attended the funeral acted as pall-bearers.

Tempting Fall Foods Shown To Students

"Hot breads of all kinds are tempting foods for crisp fall days," says Miss Helen Rodgers, regional home economist of the Wheat Flour Institute, Chicago.

She illustrated her point Tuesday in a baking demonstration for sophomore and junior home economics students of the University.

Miss Rodgers showed how to shape cinnamon blossom coffee cake, twists, rosettes, and golden harvest coffee cake. She also made tuna fish biscuit fluff and cheese muffins.

"These breads are all taste treats that will please any appetite," promised Miss Rodgers. "They rank high on the nutrition score board because they are made with enriched flour, which contains B-vitamins, food iron and body-building protein. All of these nutrients are essential for healthy bodies—and are offered more economically in bread than in any other basic food. This is true whether breads are made in your kitchen or by the baker."

Home economics students who attended the demonstration received copies of "Thirty Bread Winners," a booklet which includes recipes for the breads Miss Rogers prepared and also sampled the foods she had made.

He who from the girls doth run
Will have much safety.
But no fun.

PINNINGS: Betty Fredricks, Chi Omega, pinned to Tom Bassett, Sigma Chi; Kathy Wellbaum, Alpha Phi, to Ed Sullivan, Phi Kappa Psi; Pat Kinsey, Alpha Phi, to Bob Sinn, Sigma Chi at Miami.

MARRIED: Janis Frye, Delta Zeta, married to Armond Chase of California, now in the air force; Stan Fisk, Theta Chi alum to Gertrude O'Donnell, Cleveland.

BOBBIE'S BANNER: Congratulations are in order to Theta Chi and Alpha Phi for their community service project on election day. They did a fine job of baby-sitting and transporting people to and from the polls.

Fraternal Groups Ban Together For Community Project

As a public service, Alpha Phi and Theta Chi combined forces to help get the voters to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 4. The Theta Chi's provided free transportation to and from the voting booths, while the Alpha Phi's offered baby sitting services.

This project began publicly in full force last Saturday when the Theta Chi pledges were seen in downtown Bowling Green carrying sandwich signs publicizing the services. While they were carrying these signs many of the pledges were asked if they were on strike. Other comments heard from the townspeople wanted the pledges to carry like signs and to be sure to vote for the recent victor.

Then, at 8 a. m. on Tuesday Nov. 4, a crew of baby sitters, cars, and drivers were ready. Calls came in for cars and baby sitters until the booths closed at 6 p. m.

An amusing incident occurred when Robert Crump's car ran out of gas while taking a lady to the polls. Crump immediately called for help and Keith Ingle arrived in time to get the voter to the polls before they closed at 6.

Another incident happened when a called driver pulled up to a house directly across the street from the polls. It seemed however, that an elderly lady lived there and she had recently suffered from a stroke and was not able to walk across the street. The boys helped her into the car, drove her across the street so she could mark her ballot.

Both organizations are satisfied with the results, and although they were kept busy, they believe that if the weather hadn't been so nice they would have really been worked.

Ohio Hunting Season Opens

Students who wish to hunt in Ohio during the school year will have to purchase either a resident license for $2 and a 25 cent fee, or a non-resident license for $15 and a 25 cent fee.

Each hunting license is effective from Sept. 1, 1952, until midnight Aug. 31, 1953.

All persons who have not resided in Ohio for one year or more before buying their license are required to buy a non-resident license.

When hunting, the law requires the hunter to have written permission of the landowner or tenant. A hunter must also carry his license while hunting and an identification tag on the middle of his back. Those who wish to hunt on their own property need not have a license.

Animals which are in season now are raccoons, opossums, skunks, and muskrats. The open season for these animals is from Nov. 10 to Jan. 31, 1953.

The pheasant and Hungarian Partridge season starts Nov. 15 and ends Nov. 30. The open season for rabbits and grouse is from Nov. 15 to Jan. 1, 1953. There is no open season for the hunting of quail.

Students who wish to bring guns on campus must register them with the campus police who will assign a storage place for them. Additional information on the state hunting laws may be obtained at the Wood County Court House where the licenses are purchased.

Universal Sweater Comes In Varied Styles And Materials

Skirt 'n' shirt styles change with the sands of time, but sweaters are here to stay! From the bulky-weave beginning to the present day soft weaves of cashmere and orlon, the universal sweater has been a convenient and complimentary asset to any coed's wardrobe.

Originating from the cumbersome coat wrapper, now duplicated in fella's varsity letter sweaters, the sweater has emerged from an item to put-on-when-the - Northwind-blows, to a beautiful masterpiece in pastels, autumn hues, and dyed-to-match creations.

For everyday variation to the standard tweeds and flannels, many gals don the perennial campus favorite, the wool cardigan in rich shades of American beauty or flame red, forest and Kelly greens, warm browns, and the ever popular navy blue.

Chiming in with the cardigans, are the long-sleeved pullovers, especially popular in cashmere. The fellows match this opinion of approval with their own V-neck style, which, combined with gray flannels, makes a mighty sharp outfit. The short-sleeve sweater in pull-over or cardigan style is especially becoming in pastel shades of pink, blue, yellow, and mint green, and the latest touch is a tiny scalloped collar, just right for a movie date.

Cashmere, cashmere, and more cashmere, in subdued lavender, mauve, dusty blue, and deep navy, or the ever-popular natural beige or grey, is the desired possession of every coed. Unfortunately, the price range is sky-high for this gorgeous "soft stuff," so most students have a limited supply of one or two. Hint: Christmas is coming!

However, the sweater manufacturers have hit upon two fabrics, which have that almost-cashmere texture, orlon and lambs wool. Both can be obtained in soft-glow shades and feature the intricate full-fashioned handwork, which marks distinctive styling.
